

Admission Procedure at University of Vienna (UW)

After successful admission at CUB, students need to register at UW. They send an e-mail to bruno.meurers@univie.ac.at providing their personal coordinates and e-mail address. Afterwards, they will receive an e-mail with instructions for the next admission steps. At the end, applicants have to show up personally at the admission office and prove their admission to CUB by the letter of acceptance received from there. This completes the admission procedure.

Finally, students have to register for the courses offered by UW via u:space until end of September.